

Delve Deeper into "Family Fundamentals"

A film by Arthur Dong

This multi-media resource list, compiled by Carolyn Marvin of the William Fogg Public Library in partnership with the American Library Association, provides a range of perspectives on the issues raised by the upcoming P.O.V. documentary "Family Fundamentals" that premieres on August 26th at 10 p.m. on PBS (check local listings)

"Family Fundamentals" is the filmmaker's personal attempt to answer an explosive question: "What happens when conservative Christian families have children who are homosexual?" Armed with a digital camera, Dong takes viewers into the private and public lives of three families where parents actively campaign against gay civil rights, despite having gay offspring themselves. A search for common ground between seemingly diametrically opposed camps, "Family Fundamentals" is also a battlefield report from America's profound and disquieting culture war over homosexuality.

The following multi-media resources address the issues of conflict between conservative Christian parents and their homosexual children as well as the conflict within the Christian churches over the acceptance/inclusion of gay or lesbian parishioners and clergy. For more specific questions, concerns, or information, please access some of the websites mentioned, as they can connect you to even more extensive resources.
